

ARBUCKLE GLAD HE WILL BE TRIED FOR THIRD TIME

ury, 10 to 2 for Conviction, Dismissed After Forty-Four Hours.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.—Hos-Arbuckle will be tried again—the third time—for the death of Virginia Rappe, motion-picture actress.

This is the announcement of Discuss Attorney Brady, following the deliberations of the jury in the second trial when agreement was found possible after forty-four hours of deliberation.

Strangely enough, the big comedian smiled at the news. He says he is glad of the opportunity, for the State decided to dismiss the case it would mean that he would never again be able to appear in the pictures in America.

Getting Used to Trials.
A third trial and the possibilities of acquittal cheered him.
"Well, if that's the case, better luck next time," he said. "I'm getting used to being tried."

Brady said it was his "manifest duty" to bring Arbuckle to trial again.

"The jury was obviously governed in its deliberations by the evidence and in the end tried to arrive at a verdict based on the evidence solely," he said.

Jury Stand in Surprise.
"In spite of my own personal convictions, my intention has been to be guided by the opinion of the jury." Had the majority been for acquittal, I would have asked the dismissal of the case. As the jury stood 10 to 2 for conviction, it is my manifest duty to try this case again."

The defense announced it was ready to go to trial Monday. A date for the new trial will be set then.
The announcement that the jury stood 10 to 2 for conviction was a distinct surprise, as it had been reported that the majority was for acquittal.

In the first trial the disagreement was 11 to 1 for acquittal.

BILL FOR PARKWAY SCHEME APPROVED

District Committee Favors Plan to Link Civil War Forts.

A chain of parkways encircling the District and running through and connecting the civil war forts about the city, long advocated by the Washington Board of Trade, is being followed by the House District Committee.

A bill proposing purchase of territory necessary to complete such chain and authorizing the District to proceed with plans for the accomplishment of the proposal, was favorably reported by the House District Committee.

A bill to amend the charter of the Potomac Insurance Company of the District, introduced by Representative Frank C. Mills, also was reported favorably by the House District Committee.

Chairman E. C. Focht, of the House District Committee, entered an adverse report to the bill to close M-street northwest near the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal.

BROOKLYN DENTIST LASHED BY WOMAN

Causes Arrest, Charging She Attacked Him While Looking for Employer.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—A case of neglect and a horseplay played a prominent part in a case which was tried before Magistrate Short, in Brooklyn, when Dr. Austin B.
Colgan had Mrs. Bernadina Corly, 38, arrested for assault.

Colgan, bearing the marks of the whip about his face and neck, charged that Mrs. Corly appeared in the dental office repeatedly in search of Dr. Thomas J. Davis, by whom he is employed. Not finding Davis, she finally applied the lash to his assistant, in the presence of a number of women patients.

Mrs. Corly said she had been driven to her act because $150 worth of work done on her teeth by Davis had turned out badly.
Davis gave her no satisfaction, she said, and once called her "the most cantankerous patient" he ever had.

CHARGE WOMAN FIRED ON OTHER

Bessie Moten, colored, 35 years old, of 456 First street southwest, was fired upon three times Friday by Maud Priscilla Schnecka, colored, 35 years old, police say.

Slope of the bullets was effective.
Police say the Schnecka woman was angry because of dismissal of a charge against the other for disorderly conduct, by Judge McMahon in Police Court Friday.

The Schnecka woman was arrested by Police Officer Evans, who was charged with assault with intent to kill. She was released on $1,000 bond.

Frederman's Hospital, where she was removed.

Lecture on Thackeray.
Leon Vincent, lecturer and literary critic, spoke on "Thackeray," at the Siddell Friends' School, 1311 I street northwest yesterday afternoon. With wit and humor he portrayed the character of the writer of "Vanity Fair," and asserted that the reading of at least a few of the novels of Thackeray is essential to the cultural education of every American.

WOULD REGISTER ALL ARCHITECTS

Senator Calder Introduces Bill for District Examinations.

The further preclude the possibility of a recurrence of the Knickerbocker disaster, Senator William H. Calder, New York, introduced a bill Friday in the Senate to register architects.

The bill will not affect architects now engaged in this work, but merely provides that the Commissioners shall be directed to appoint a board of five competent architects, to examine applicants for registration certificates.

The board, according to the bill, would pass upon the qualifications of applicants for registration and conduct a suitable examination before issuing a certificate.

TWO ARRESTED ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Dry Agents Confiscate Two Automobiles and Whisky.

Two men were arrested within a stone's throw of national internal revenue officers in a series of raids by internal revenue agents Friday.

In a raid on the Robinson Barbershop, 1312 F street northwest, within the shadow of the internal revenue bureau offices at 1330 F street northwest, Sinkler R. Penn, manager, and James F. Hill, employee, were arrested by Revenue Agents L. S. Evans and Otis Ange-vine. Evans claims to have bought a quart of whisky in the place.
Penn was charged with illegal possession and Hill with selling liquor.
Both were taken to the First precinct station.

A large touring car and fifty-nine gallons of corn whisky were confiscated in a raid on the premises in the rear of the Buckley garage, 1131 Twentieth street northwest.
Furman Thomas Lawton, 2658 Wisconsin avenue, was arrested. He was released on $1,000 bond.

Pat Murphy, 1810 U street northwest, was arrested later in the evening after agents raided his premises and confiscated three gallons of alleged corn and rye whisky. Murphy was charged with illegal selling and possession of liquor at the eighth precinct.

Henry James Mastbrook, 3903 Emory street, was arrested and taken to the third precinct after agents claimed they had bought alleged whisky from him. Mas-brook is a taxi driver for a local firm. His car was confiscated. He was released on $1,000 bond.

Liceman Poland, of the Third precinct, assisted in the arrest.

Bill Would Bar Flying of Kites.

House Measure Fails to Show Reason for Bar on the Sport.

No more kite flying in the District, is the latest demand.

Balloons will also be barred, according to a bill introduced in the House by Representative John Reber, Pennsylvania.

This, it is explained, does not apply to children, which makes the measure all the more intricate, so to speak.

Whether the proposed legislation has its inception in the fact that the homebound birdies, having drunk from some mountain brook in the vicinity of a still, have staggered into a kite while winging their uncertain way, or whether some playful father in helping his son emulate Benjamin Franklin has smashed all the glass in his neighbor's hot beds, no one will know until the bill comes up for a hearing.

The fact remains, however, if the bill is passed the tired business man will be obliged to adopt some safer sport than kite flying.

Negro Arrested When He Applies for Job

His desire to work caused the arrest of Charles H. Brown, 22 years old, of 1302 Tenth street

Brown was charged with grand larceny and lodged in the First precinct station house by Detectives Cox and Vermillion, when he applied for his old job at an uptown pharmacy. His former employer turned him over to the police, who have been seeking him for the alleged robbery of $67 from his sister, Jennie.

Arrested in Descent
On Near-Beer Saloon
Patrick Joseph Murphy, 32 years old, 1610 V street northwest, was arrested when Internal Revenue officials and police made a raid on his near-beer saloon Friday night.
Police say they found a quart of corn whisky and a pint and a half of rye. Murphy was released on $1,500 bond.

The raiders were Internal Revenue Officer Linton Evans, Sgt. J.
H. Sullivan, W. F. Burke and G. L.
Helmuth.

arrested Anderson on Alabama ave-and discovered him carrying two half

FIRE DEPARTMENT ASKS ARMY TRUCK

The last decrease in the U. S. army may benefit the Washington Fire Department which suffered severely from lack of equipment during the recent snow storm and the Knickerbocker disaster, according to Chief George S. Watson.

The chief said that Congress might well transfer some army equipment to the District's fire fighters. He especially asked for one of the five-ton army trucks for wrecking equipment.

Chief Watson also stated that an army searchlight wagon and a supply of army tools would assist in properly equipping the fire department.

Two of the department's hose wagons were sentenced to service Friday after being repaired. There are still thirteen pieces of apparatus out of service as a result of the recent emergencies.

PERSHING DINES WAR REPORTERS

Correspondents formerly with the American army in France had what was probably their first peaceful meal together in Washington Friday. It was a luncheon given by Gen. Pershing in great contrast to the meals these same newspapermen had together in France, there was not a single argument.

No curt cables were delivered from home offices, and no one looked about the table with a suspicious eye in an effort to figure out who had slipped something over.

No censor was present.
Gen. Pershing laughed heartily as the correspondents "reminisced," and then told them how much he thought of them—something that wasn't always suspected in the heat of things in France.

The former war correspondents attending the luncheon were Lowell Mellett, N. C. Parke, Robert T.
Small, Frank J. Taylor, Junius B.
Wood, Raymond G. Carroll, Norman Draper, Fred Ferguson, Burt Ford, Martin Green, Otto P. Higgins and Burg McFall.
